

Statement of Public Performance Rights/License

This DVD edition of The Hollywood Librarian: A Look at Librarians through Film comes with a limited Public Performance Rights License attached. This License accrues only to the owner of this DVD and is non-transferable.

The owner of this DVD may:

- 1) screen the Film in classrooms, on-campus libraries or similar educational venues
- 2) screen the Film for the public at colleges, universities, schools, libraries, library associations and organization meetings, non-profit venues, community centers or cinemas
- 3) charge admission for screenings for fundraising, cost offset or other purpose
- 4) advertise the screening to the general public

The owner of this DVD may not:

- 1) copy, sell, or distribute this DVD by any means
- 2) broadcast the Film in any medium, including, but not limited to, television, cable, satellite or on the Internet
- 3) duplicate this License or lend this DVD to others

If you have any questions about the rights contained in this license, please call 1.800.897.0089 x2201.